Technology Assistance with Clinical Support

Virtual visits are an excellent tool to maintain contact with you or your loved one's primary care physician without making an office visit. These visits are scheduled through you or your loved one's primary care provider on a set date and time. CareAparent's clinicians can come into the home to facilitate the virtual visit, take detailed clinical notes and leave a care summary with you or your loved one for documentation. The clinicians can assist the primary care physician by taking vital signs, an INR draw, or any other required medical assistance needed to assess their patient.

Telehealth Calls

To monitor changes in physical and emotional health conditions, CareAparent offers support through scheduled Telehealth calls. A call with a CareAparent professional can track changes in condition and build a relationship of trust and safety that gives you or your loved one the opportunity to discuss issues or concerns. These calls can also serve as simple reminders to take medications or attend to personal cares to prevent adverse health outcomes.

Technology Assistance

As technology evolves and changes at a rapid rate, CareAparent recognizes the confusion and challenges you or your loved one may face. A CareAparent caregiver can come into the home to provide and manage the technology so you or your loved one can complete a virtual visit with any outside health care professional. To combat isolation and loneliness, our caregivers can also facilitate socialization with friends and family virtually with technology.
